Reprint Policies

By signing below, purchasers agree to the following policies and restrictions:

- JCOPDF article content cannot be altered, excerpted or added to. Specifically, graphics, trademarks, logos, advertised products or product symbols may not be added to the reprint's cover or within the article. No additional text may be printed directly onto the text pages except that which is created and printed by the JCOPDF, such as the purchaser's logo, branding statement and inventory codes, as mentioned in the Customization section. This customization must be done by the JCOPDF (and only the JCOPDF) at the time of the reprint order. This includes but is not limited to rubber stamping or adhesive stickers—these are also not permitted.
- JCOPDF reprints may not be bound or included within other materials such as promotional sales pieces, product descriptions or any other type of materials. In addition, any email used to distribute purchased e-prints may not interpret, summarize or provide opinion on the e-print article.
- The reprint must be a freestanding piece—not physically attached to anything such as advertising materials OR have anything physically attached to it, such as product samples.
- The COPD Foundation will include a statement granting permission /approval for distribution of the reprint to the purchaser.
- Reprints are only available for articles that have been published in a final, numbered issue of the JCOPDF. Articles posted in the “In Press” section will not be available for reprint purchase until they have appeared in a regular issue.
- E-prints will be limited via a secure link to the appropriate, purchased number of downloads.
